OUR BOYS IN KHAKI.

Aside from teaching our boys in khaki how to fight, how to march, how to shoulder their guns and behave in the face of an enemy, we must also teach them how to be able to enjoy themselves without recourse to camp, with wisdom the United States government has forbidden the use of any alcoholic stimulants to men enlisted or commissioned in the service. Now the problem comes how to give these men the necessary protection against the "harpies" that lurk outside the camp ranges waiting for them. Not in this country alone, but in foreign climes. To combat this evil and offer a wonderful substitute, it is not the Y. M. C. A. we know with swimming pools, gymnasium, hide-and-seek, and so forth, but the Y. M. C. A. built on the broad lines and one which will bring results. It is a place where the men can meet, enjoy their leisure hours, write their letters home, hear good music, read good books, play games and otherwise enjoy themselves. It takes money to make the mere go, just as it takes money to make the Y. M. C. A. work. The ones established in various cantonments, federal and national guard camps. This is an extra part each loyal citizen must pay. We buy Liberty bonds to arm and equip the soldier boys. We subscribe to individual individual citizens for the benefit of our individual citizens. If you are called upon to subscribe for the benefit of every body's sons, it is one more way to win the war. It helps the general cause in which we are all so vitally interested. The campaign has started so do not neglect the opportunity of perhaps helping your own son or some of our friends by subscribing to the great cause of protection for our soldier boys from the evils that beset every soldier who has idle hours at his disposal and no place to go.

THE FOOD PLEDGES.

The government has started a campaign for food pledges. There will be systematic canvasses wherever possible to persuade people to observe wheatless and meatless days, and save sugar and dairy products. The people of Rock county should cooperate in this movement and undoubtedly they will. But it is one of those things in which everyone has a comfortable feeling that everyone else is attending to it, therefore we personally don't need it. The practical result of that attitude is that nothing is accomplished. As long as the thing was simply a matter of general agitation, only exceptionally conscientious people paid attention to it. To secure co-operation and overcome popular inertia, solicitors will have to be sent from door to door. It is surprising to see how quickly the kickers and the grumblers will fall into line when some prominent business man or prominent citizen comes across. The reasonableness of the thing scarcely needs argument. Our country has an ample food supply. But our allies have only a short supply of the leading food staples which they are accustomed to and fitted up to use. They haven't the machinery to prepare corn for food. It is simply common sense to send them along our wheat, and let us get along more on corn and potatoes. A man who would kick on such nourishing and appetizing food if well prepared, ought to take his turn at the canned "bully beef" of the trenches and see how he likes it. No doubt it is only a question needing general agitation to secure acceptance. Few people will decline to cooperate if asked. But it does take the personal request by word of mouth to get such a thing done.

WE MUST PAY.

There is no citizen of the United States, or property-owner within our borders, who is going to be immune from the taxation schedule that has been evolved by the federal government. Far from the scene of actual war activity, we are furnishing the real shows of the conflict with our dollars and our food supply. Along the flower of the youth of this country have been called into service. If we, who stay at home and can not fight, can only contribute to the fund, pay our taxes, complain what is to come to this nation? This is the war burden placed upon us as citizens fighting against an enemy whose ideals are far different from ours and whose victory would spell the ruin of democracy in the world. An evildoer whose past performance in the world has been to do evil, and whose attacks in their aggressive and whose attacks have put to shame the days of Captain Kidd and other pirates who made their prisoners walk the plank. This is the burden we "stay-at-homes" must pay and we must pay it cheerfully.

A WAR OF DISCIPLINE.

The recruits in the training camps will often be feeling because they are asked to obey this and that rule for which they fail to see a necessity. They should reflect that their own safety and everyone's depends on instant obedience. It must be possible to hold a group of men to strict compliance with orders or the offensive will fail. The Canadian troops at the start of the war lost very heavily. They were almost too brave because they were anxious to go ahead that they could not be held to strict discipline, consequently they suffered needless casualties. In this war there is a minute subdivision of function. Every man has his task which must be performed in a certain way. If once the pre-arranged plan is broken up by too much individual initiative, the attack is weakened. The soldier for the good of all must learn to fit in with the general plan and do immediately just what he is told.

Only a few states have elections this year, but the party organs of both sides have editorials already in type showing that the result was a great and glorious victory for their side.

The Germans aren't anxious about the big Liberty bond subscription, as Kaiser Bill gave it to them straight that the American people would only put up a cent apiece to buy them.

Considering food conditions this year, it is suggested that on Thanksgiving day everyone eat only twice as much as he ought to, instead of three or four times as much as usual.

The spies might well be given free use of our telegraph system to tell the Kaiser all about the results of the Liberty bond campaign.

There were some who couldn't subscribe for Liberty bonds, as they needed the money to lose on the stock market.

By Edgar A. Guest.

THE SAFE WAY
 There's one safe way, my boy, to play
 The game of life from day to day,
 To tell you where each pitfall lies,
 The rules that govern you are few
 And really very simple, too.
 Be honest with yourself and then
 You will be square with other men.
 Don't try to win by methods slick,
 Don't undertake a shabby trick.
 The meanest man I ever saw
 Could cheat and stay within the law.

If ever you begin to doubt
 The honor of what you're about,
 And wonder if it's wrong or right,
 It by that little act you might Material advantage gain.
 Forget it! It will leave a stain.
 If you must stop and ask yourself
 If in some book you know the rule,
 To rectify the deed you'd do,
 Dismiss the thought and pass along.
 The doubt is proof that it is wrong.

You'll never wander far astray
 If you will rule yourself that way.
 If once suspicion comes to you
 That what you are about to do
 Is wrong, let me remind the book
 Don't waste your precious time to look.

Play safe and choose the harder way,
 That no man living here may say
 That your success is stained with Shame. Because you played a crooked game.
 When you're in doubt—be wise, be strict.
 Don't do the deed that may be wrong.

A LITTLE SLICE OF LIFE.
 I have an inordinate fondness for corned beef and cabbage,
 And my wife, poor thing, she likes them, too.
 They eat up the house so and everything.
 And the neighbors all kick.
 The other day a low-brow friend of mine invited me to his restaurant and said:
 "Come at 2 o'clock and bring your appetite with you."
 Which did, we had corned beef and cabbage.
 And we wallowed in it, defying Hoover.
 And Dr. Woods Hutchinson and Howard Fletcher
 And everybody who has good sense about food.
 We ate until 3:30, and when I went home at 5
 I was starved and soggy and uncomfortable.
 My wife, who was conducting a fall for a new Hudson seal coat, met me at the door.

 And she said: "I have got the grand-

 We are going to have corned beef and dinner.

 The neighbors are away for the day."
 Neighbors never did have any sense.

MIASMA.

'Twas a fine day in the stone age,
 Curly Locks, the fifty-seventh verse of his love poem to the beautiful Miasma, daughter of Iron Fist the tree
 bender. (See Leah Sparrow's "Trades in the Stone Age.")
 "And let me end, O fair Miasma,
 'There is none so fair as thee,
 And as then standest on thy pliazza,
 'Tis art worth ninety backs to seek,
 Curly Locks read happily, then, assembling the fifty-seventh verse, he bowed broken nose the carter to deliver them at the cave of Iron Fist.
 For seven days Curly Locks was in vain for an answer, and on the eighth day he set out for the cave of Iron Fist to see if, perchance, the incomparable Miasma could be ill.
 Quarter of a mile from the cave he heard great cries of anger and the noise of many poundings. As he drew near he discovered that the poundings came from the cave of Iron Fist, who was just completing his seven days' fast, and was, in fact, which Broken Nose the carter had carelessly piled against the mouth of the cave.
 Curly Locks was fleet of foot, and by the end of that day he had taken up a permanent residence on a cliff fourteen miles distant.

Evansville News

Evansville, Nov. 6.—Before an immense audience that taxed the capacity of the opera house, the play, "Way Down East," was presented by local talent last evening. It was a benefit play for the Evansville Soldiers' and Sailors' Hospital, and under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chouteau. The cast of characters was as follows:
 Anna Moore, the unfortunate, Mrs.
 Mrs. Bartlett, with a mother's heart,
 Kate Brewster, the college girl,
 Maggie Perkins, the gossip, Squire Bartlett, with an iron will,
 Dave Bartlett, the noble son,
 Lennox Sanderson, a wolf in sheep's clothing,
 Professor Stirling, the egghead,
 Hi Holier, the hired man,
 Herbert Durrer,
 The cast was well balanced and the person representing each character seemed especially adapted to the part.
 Miss Nina Park, as "Anna Moore," had an especially difficult character to portray, but her portrayal was really artistic, very well taken, and her part, as "Mrs. Bartlett," was extremely good, and Mrs. Harry Hansen filled the part of "Maggie Perkins" with some clever acting. Harry Chouteau, the director, was admirable in the part of "Squire Bartlett." Marion Jones and Joe Straka as "Dave Bartlett" and "Professor Stirling" were difficult roles to fill, and for amateurs did remarkably well. The villain's part, the heavy part, was admirably taken by H. C. Hansen, while Herbert Durrer, as "Hi Holier," was a scene-stealer. He was "holier" by name and he "holiered" most of the time.

The Berry Pickers' Quartet, composed of Herbert Durrer, Marion Jones, Harry Hansen, and John Stair, made their debut and were given an ovation by the huge audience, being forced to respond to several encores.
 The character song, "Little Sam," by William Ames, supported by an army and navy representation, consisting of Malcolm Allen, Carol Bly, Morris Bly, Albert Clark, Emory Cox,
 Leon Leighton, Charles Donald Tolles, brought down the house and was especially good. The young actor and soloist was very easy and graceful and shows remarkable talent. The other specialty, the "Grand Tableau," was also very pretty and very well received.

On a whole the play was very good and the W. R. C. will realize a very neat sum for the year for knitting.
 The play will be repeated in Brooklyn
 this evening.

RECKLESS DRIVING INJURES CHILDREN RIDING IN A BUGGY

Two Children Are Thrown From Buggy Receiving Injuries by Auto Driver

Who Did Not Stop.

Reckless driving and absolute disregard for the consequences of the act of the owner of an automobile, whose identity is known, nearly resulted in serious injuries for two children on Court street, about six o'clock last evening when an automobile crashed into the buggy in which two children were riding and demolished the buggy, throwing the two children to the ground.

Shortly after leaving their home on Racine street, Ervin, age 12, and Ella Leokke, age 4, drove their horse onto Court street, going in the direction of Main street. Before they knew what happened a car coming at high speed struck them taking both wheels from the buggy and tearing the harness, which frightened the horse. The boy and girl were thrown from the buggy and landed on the ground. The driver of the car did not stop to ascertain the extent of the damage or to give any aid whatever to the children. The car was driven away.

The impact of the car and buggy threw the car to the other side of the road where it struck an automobile standing by the curb.

Although the driver of the car did not hesitate, a nearby driver of a car gave chase and secured the number of his car. This number was looked up and found to belong to a Delavan man. The fact that the Delavan man was in this city yesterday and that he would have taken the Court street route to get home.

The injuries of the boy were of such a nature that a doctor was called to dress them. His back was bruised and cut but he was unable to return to school this morning. While the girl received some bruises she was not in as bad a condition as the boy.

A warrant has been sworn out by the parents of the children for the arrest of the owner of the car. Due to the fact that the car which struck the children did not stop, the belief is that he had the desire to make his getaway without being caught.

When called on the telephone this morning the mother of the two children stated that she knew the number of the car and that she had secured the owner. Further, she stated that she knew the owner of the car and that his home was in Delavan.

WILL ALLOW DANCING IN HIGH SCHOOL GYM

Board of Education Decides That Students May Have Dancing at Their Banquets and Other Functions.

That dancing may be indulged in by local high school students at their social functions in the gymnasium, was the decision of the board of education at its monthly meeting last evening. The question was decided upon after much discussion and deliberation on the part of the board members.

The board wishes it distinctly understood that the school is not to be used for dancing parties but merely for the purpose of social entertainment when the teachers consider it advisable. A committee made up of high school teachers will be appointed to draw up a set of regulations governing the use of this privilege.

Superintendent Faust experienced some difficulty last evening in rounding up enough members of the board to make a quorum. All of the board members were present at the meeting, while others were unable to attend on account of business. It is planned to change the night of the meeting to some other day of the month, possibly Tuesday, so that at least a quorum will be possible at every meeting.

The vote of the members present last night was unanimous in favor of allowing the bill to pass, and the absent members, when called upon for their vote today, all responded with a favorable reply.

The usual routine business of the month was disposed of before the dancing question was brought up.

POSTPONE NATIONAL FUND FOR SOLDIERS

At a meeting of business men in Mayor Fathers' office last night it was decided to postpone the National Fund Camp Community service campaign until some later date, which was not decided.

Mayor Fathers called this meeting in response to a telegram from the National headquarters which asked it to postpone the fund-raising campaign.

All men present signified their intention of helping to put this campaign across, but they were unanimous in their view that the campaign ought not to be put on before or with the Y. M. C. A. campaign.

It was suggested that this fund be raised in some novel manner as the sum desired is only $1,200 which would mean about eight cents from every one in Janesville.

Postmaster General A. S. Burleson has issued an order limiting the size of the Christmas packages for the boys in the expeditionary forces in France. The order comes direct from Washington, D. C., and went into effect November 1st. The order is as follows:

Order No. 821. Referring to Order No. 541 of July 24, 1917, prescribing the rates and conditions applicable to parcel post matter to and from the American Expeditionary Forces in France, notice is hereby given that on and after November 1st, 1917, parcels will be limited to twenty pounds as heretofore, and the order of July 24th, above mentioned, is modified accordingly.

STATE GUARDS LEARN THE MANUAL OF ARMS

Kenneth Parker instructs the Members of State Guards in the Use of the New Rifles.

Instruction in the handling of the new rifles was on the program of events at the regular drill meeting of the Sixteenth Separate Company, Wisconsin State Guard, last evening.

The drill in the manual of arms was under the direction of Kenneth Parker who has had considerable experience in drilling. He has just been released from the navy to serve where he was gunner's mate and acting drillmaster for the rookies, and is now preparing to enter the naval aviation corps.

The drill of the state guard mastered the movements in excellent fashion and before the one hour of drill with the guns was over they were able to work like men who were well acquainted with the use of the rifles.

The work consisted of the simple manual which taught the men to handle the pieces correctly and to become fully conversant with its various parts.

Only forty guns were received from the state for the company of sixty-five men, but through the courtesy of the United States Spanish War Veterans association, the state guard had the addition of ten more rifles was made, thus giving more men a chance to drill.

This evening, at seven-thirty, the high school companies will meet in the gymnasium for drill. In the new rifles. Due to the large number of boys in the two companies it will be necessary to alternate in the use of the guns.

This evening, however, the company will practice with the gun while the others watch the movements and get acquainted with the commands.

Thursday evening the state guard will hold one of their series of dances at the armory. A four-piece jazz orchestra will be present to furnish the music for the occasion. Due to the storm the dance of last week was postponed to an unusually large crowd is expected to be on hand Thursday evening.

MAY FURNISH SHEEP FOR BOYS TO RAISE

Commercial Club Directors Consider Plan of Giving a Number of County Boys a Few Sheep.

If matters can be arranged satisfactorily, it is proposed by the directors and members of the Commercial club to provide a number of boys in Rock County with three or four sheep each.

It is the idea of the Commercial club to also encourage the boys in this line of business.

J. A. Craig presented the idea and gave reasons why the industry should be encouraged at this time. The shortage of beef, and the reasons for this shortage in the curtailment of the western ranches, make the production of mutton a matter of great importance to the nation.

The growing of sheep is a very profitable business. The increase in the flock and the sale of the wool makes the cost of upkeep nothing more than a small investment.

While the plan is only a proposal at this time, it has every possibility of becoming a successful conclusion. Those who are interested in the plan should be present at the meeting indicated a willingness to back the plan with their money.

The boys will be furnished the sheep and their own care. A hearing is being held for a year. A hearing is being held for a year. A hearing is being held for a year.

The plan is to have a hearing on the plan at the meeting of the Commercial club on Monday, November 12th.

NEW POSTAL SAVINGS NOTICE IS RECEIVED

Notice is in regard to Circulated Rumor of Government Censure of Postal Deposits.

Another malicious practice of the German propagandist in this country which has come to the attention of the Government officials, is the circulation of the report that the Government will seize the Postal Savings Deposits of the "enemy or alien enemy."

Postmaster J. Cunningham has received notice from the government that this is absolutely erroneous.

The following statement which was issued by Mitchell Palmer, Alien Property Custodian, removes all possible doubt on the question. "Some misapprehension seems to exist relative to the status under the trading with the enemy act of citizens or subjects of Germany or its allies resident in this country. Such persons are not included within the term 'enemy or ally enemy' as employed in the act."

Deposits in the postal savings banks of the United States belonging to such persons are not liable to seizure by the government, and will not therefore be taken into possession of the alien property custodian or be interfered with in any way whatever.

This self-explanatory notice was sent to all postmasters in the United States who were asked to give this notice the widest possible publicity in order to allay the fears of many inquisitive citizens who put their hard earned savings in the care of the government and to forestall the attempts of the German propagandist in creating unrest.

TWO MEN FROM BELOIT TO SPEND TIME AT LOCAL JAIL

Colton Goldsworth, arrested in Beloit Thursday for vagrancy, was placed in the county jail yesterday to await trial before Judge Clark of Beloit, November 12. He is under $250 bonds.

MISS D. SALOW
EXPERT CORSETIERE

began yesterday a week's demonstration in our Corset Department. She will explain to all patrons the many admirable features of MODARTS. Her method of corseting is intensely interesting and you will go away with a new thought. You will have discovered the proper way of the putting on and wearing of your corset.

A trial fitting requires but a few moments and costs you nothing.

In inviting you to meet Miss Salow, we ask you to compare MODART Corsets with any other of the front laced variety. We ask you to compare for quality, for style, for workmanship and we will leave it to your judgment whether or not there is any other front laced corset in the MODART class.

We chose to specialize on the MODART Front Laced Corset—to feature it in our advertising—to recommend it to our customers, only after a thorough study and search of the corset field.

We chose them only after we were convinced that no other front laced corset compares with the MODART in quality and fine fitting features.

A trial fitting by Miss Salow will cost you nothing.

News Notes from Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

Margaret Landis, who is a member of an old southern family, possessed even as a child a wonderful faculty for dancing, and it was as a fancy dancer that she first went into moving pictures. She was a success from the very beginning, and has since of the leading women stars in the western studios. She has been winning new laurels of late as a star in such successes as "The Marching Marriage," "The Best Man," and "Feet of Clay."

Dramatic talent seems to run in the Landis family, inasmuch as her young brother, Cullen Landis, a "find" made by Director Henry King of the studios, has been winning honors for the Landis family in Falcon features.

When Harry Hilliard, Ethel Clayton, Henry E. Dixey, Emily Stevens and Paul McAllister played on the road in "The Devil," but in different companies?

When western stuff represented the output of American producers and no story was complete without a lively chase of 300 feet or more?

When Marguerite Saxon was playing the title role in "The College Balloon," a part which previously had been enacted by Louise Rutter and Dorothy Tennant?

When you used to think the height of realism was attained in the color lectures to illustrate travails?

When "Fatty" Arbuckle made his Keystone debut as a kitchen assistant in a scene in which Ford Sterling presided as chef, and when this same story was done again less than eighteen months ago as a starring vehicle for Sam Bernard?

When Eddie Roy quit the "movies" rather than allow the Keystone comedians to plaster his face with custard pie?

When Marguerite Clark wore tights and lisped "Fatty, Fatty, Fatty, Fatty" in "Happyland," in support of De Wolf Hopper?

When Fannie Ward did "Madam President" over the France for the Parisian stage, and the deal of press dope that followed thereat?

When Lubin produced Civil war stuff with a dozen soldiers and ran them round and round the camera to enact a battle scene?

Geraldine Farrar and Mary Garden, stars of the operatic world, will appear as members of the Goldwyn staff in the near future. Geraldine has signed a contract, whereby she starts under the Goldwyn banner in April, when she leaves La Scala. Mary Garden is now busy engaged.

Gladys Leslie has been assigned to play stellar roles for Viagraph. Miss Leslie is a New York girl. She is only eighteen years old, but for three years has been in motion picture work.

AMUSEMENTS

(Notices furnished by the theatres.) MYERS THEATRE.

"Stop! Look! Listen!"

Janesville has been given opportunity to witness many productions of the kind that in theatrical parlance are known as "dancing shows," but it is doubtful if a theatre goer of this generation can really to mind any offering which so justly deserves the description as "Stop! Look! Listen!"

Charles Dillingham's huge musical comedy production which will be the attraction at the Myers theatre on Sunday evening, Nov. 11th.

The company numbers a dozen or more performers who have ascended to stardom by their successfully unique entertainments, and most of them number the ability to dance, unusually among their talents, and no two of these performers, unless they work as a team, dance alike.

When the Cincinnati Reds let Clarence Mitchell go to Brooklyn Dodgers via the waiver route there was considerable fretfulness among the fans of Cincinnati. Mitchell was something of a hit with Redland fans not only because he can pitch a nifty game, but because he plays the outfield with more class than lots of our fielders. However, Manager Maddy didn't seem to think that Mitchell was such a treasure and he let him go. But the fans continue to grumble.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Three years ago I met a young man who came to this city to see a friend of mine. He seemed like a very fine boy and soon we got to know each other very well in love. He never went with any other girls and I never had any other boy friends. All at once, for no reason what ever, he left me, and I have seen him only once or twice since then until last week. He met me on the street and when we had said a few words as we always used to do, he said that he had a date but he called me on the phone last night and asked to come. I love him very much and don't know what to do.

(1) Should I let him come to see me?

(2) What do you think the people in our crowd will say when they hear that we are going together again?

(3) If he asks to take me to picture shows at night, should I go with him? I am twenty years old and he is not over twenty-two.

PERCILLA C.

(1) I see no reason why you should not let him come to see you. You can do so and still not cheapen yourself. Make no mention of his having left you before—perhaps now that you are both older you will be more congenial.

(2) Don't care what they say.

(3) Yes, it will be all right to go with him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been acquainted with a young man for some time and recently he showed me he would not mind my asking favors of him. I have been away visiting some relatives in a city quite far away and had to return so as to reach home after midnight. I told this young man to meet me at the train and he did so. Later my mother became angry with me for asking such a thing. She says it is unladylike and that I will ruin my reputation if I am seen coming home with a young man so late at night. Don't you think it was all right for me to do this?

HAZEL.

I can see no harm in your having this young friend meet you at the station. It is always quite unpleasant for a girl to go home alone from a train and if he is willing to meet you it is perfectly proper. You must remember, though, that no matter what you may think, your parents are the ones to decide for you what you must do and what you must not do, and even though you yourself think it is all right, don't disobey your mother.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a girl sixteen years old and wish to turn sister I had many boy friends and since the idea struck me I never corresponded with them. Don't you think I could be a sister?

(2) My parents are very mean to me and the more I do to please them the more they seem to want. They tell me to leave the house and that is the reason I want to become a sister.

(3) If I were you I would consider seriously a long while before I made the decision to become a sister. You can probably lead a very useful life outside of a convent and it would be much better for you to do so. If you once become a sister your future is outlined for you and you cannot change.

(2) Try to bear the burden that has been thrust upon you. Your hardships will probably make you a better woman when you grow up. Look on the cheerful side of life and make the best of things as they are.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been acquainted with a young man for some time and recently he showed me

LADY CONGRESSMAN PROUD OF RECORD

Miss Jeannette Rankin.

Miss Jeannette Rankin, the young lady congressman, is proud of the work she has done in her first session of congress. Among other things Miss Rankin accomplished an amendment to the food survey bill, providing for the employment of women, introduced four bills, made two speeches and asked two questions of the speaker. Miss Rankin considers that her most important work was done outside of the legislative hall, in behalf of laboring people, women and men.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

More on Colds

Supplement No. 30 to the Public Health Reports, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., March 15, 1917, offers this advice to the public on so-called "colds".

Sinuous colds are a serious condition they should be treated as such. A great many people think they have an infallible remedy for breaking up a cold. This may be true in some cases, but usually it is not and consists of a combination of harmful drugs and alcohol, the latter usually predominating. The sufferer takes these preparations in large quantities, and if he is strong enough he may survive them and eventually get the best of his cold. Self-medication or medication by untrained persons is always dangerous to those having colds and should always be scrupulously avoided. As a rule, much time and inconvenience and suffering will be obviated by consulting an intelligent physician at once.

An intelligent physician is one who endeavors to make a diagnosis of each patient's trouble at the first interview. Such a physician never accepts the patient's version of what makes his own condition. And therefore he knows that a "cold" is not a definite ailment, but merely a general reaction of the body to some cause. It is not practical to give a list of diseases which happen to disturb the respiratory organs.

The P. H. S. continues:

If this is not practicable a brisk saline may be taken and the patient put to bed. This gives his body an opportunity to regain its vitality and at the same time isolates him from other people. The sick room should be well ventilated and the windows so opened as to keep the air moving freely. It is also wise to moisten the air a little by putting a pan of water on the radiator or over the register or on the stove. The blankets and bedding used by the patient should be sterilized by boiling (after the patient's recovery) in kerosene and the use of common drinking cups and towels, etc., in common with other members of the household should be forbidden. It being borne in mind constantly that colds are infectious and really spread from one person to another.

The Things Other People Can't Do

But I've often heard you say things like that yourself," protested Molly, when the cynic resented her attempts to jolly him about his habit of getting excited and taking in bunches.

"That's all right," said the cynic. "If I want to say those things about myself I can, but it's a very different matter when I say them to you. What a lot of things we do say about ourselves that we wouldn't let anyone else say."

Wouldn't We Be Mad If Anyone Else Said These Things

"Here I am monopolizing the whole conversation."

"I know I have the homeliest nose in existence," etc., etc.

And then there are, with many of us, certain things that we can't bear to have other people do which, when we do them seem perfectly inoffensive.

For instance, I hate to hear anyone else sneeze. It makes me feel nervous. I feel as if they could be doing it on purpose to annoy me. Yet I love to sneeze myself. I can almost understand the snuff habit. I feel that my sneeze is a clean, possibly take objection to, whereas by housemates, naturally, indignant at being requested not to sneeze, as if that is one of the worst they ever heard.

MEDICAL INSPECTION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Trained Nurse from Milwaukee Will Conduct Examinations of Every Student in the City.

"Health First" should be the slogan of every child and every parent. The work to bring this about in Jamesville will begin this week and will continue until every student in the city has been examined. Superintendent Faust stated this morning that he hoped the work would be well under way by Wednesday.

With funds donated by the Jamesville Anti-Tuberculosis association, the city is to have the services of a trained nurse in the city schools for two months. Miss Abers, a graduate of the Milwaukee county hospital, has arrived in the city and is getting acquainted with the local situation. Miss Abers has had experience in social service work in that hospital, and also spent a short time at Sheboygan, in nursing work in the public schools.

Miss Abers is highly endorsed by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, under whose auspices she has been sent to this city. She will conduct the regular work of a school nurse, which will begin with a medical examination of the pupils of the schools, in which the physicians of the city have been asked to co-operate by giving several half days of their time. The endeavor is to make the school of the city a community health center to avoid the outbreak of contagious and infectious diseases, as well as to care for the general health of every child.

In the recent draft of men for the army, a very large proportion were rejected on account of some physical defect. The child of today is the man of the future and it is every parent's duty to conserve the health of the child more than any other thing. Life must be safeguarded by knowledge of the means of preventing diseases as the first obligation of education.

THE TAILOR'S DILEMMA.

"Do you exchange unsatisfactory goods, sir?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, here's an overcoat I got here last year. I want it exchanged as I think I like your new styles much better."

Creamed Ham on Toast: Thicken one and one-half cups of milk with one tablespoon of flour rolled in a cup of butter; add one cup of minced cold ham and season to taste. Cook three minutes and serve on hot, buttered toast cut in rounds.

Oyster and Tomato Pie: To one and one-half cups of oysters and one cup of strained tomatoes, one tablespoon of minced celery, two tablespoons of butter and the same of cracker crumbs, season with salt, pepper, and a dash of onion. Let the mixture boil up once, turn into a baking dish and cover with a rich baking powder biscuit crust and bake in a quick oven about fifteen minutes.

PIES.

War-Time Chocolate Pie—This recipe will serve four people. Is made quickly and costs very little. One cup of sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch, one tablespoon cocoa or grated chocolate, one cup cold water, pinch of salt, vanilla.

Mix dry ingredients, add water. Cook until thick, stirring all the time. Pour into a baked shell. Use white of one egg, one teaspoon sugar for meringue.

Squash Pie—Mix one-fourth cup sugar, one-third teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon each of nutmeg, cinnamon and cloves; add one wellbeaten egg, one-fourth cup molasses, one cup cooked squash, one and one-half cups with two tablespoons flour, mix well. Have oven very hot at first, gradually reducing heat.

Cranberry Pie—Chop together one cup raisins, add one cup pulsed cranberries, one cup sugar, one-half cup cold water. Bake in two crusts.

THE TABLE.

Sauer Kraut Dinner—Three pounds chops, cut fat pork or fat beef brisket, wash, put in kettle, cover with cold water, let boil slowly till about half done, then place in three pounds of the kraut. When nearly done, add cooked and ten good sized potatoes. Make dumplings. When potatoes are nearly done put dumplings in. You now have a whole dinner which is delicious and nourishing.

Dumplings: A pint of flour (sifted) with one teaspoon baking powder and a little salt. Wet this with milk or water to a stiff batter; drop over the contents of kettle and boil slowly twenty minutes, when all will be ready to serve.

Apple Cornmeal Pudding: (saves both sugar and wheat.)—Pare and core with a silber very thin. Stir in a quart of milk, one quart of sifted cornmeal; add a little salt, then the apples, four spoonfuls suet (chopped) and a teaspoon of good molasses, adding a teaspoon soda dissolved in milk. Pour into a buttered dish and bake four hours. Serve hot, with any preferred sauce. This is the most simple, cheap and delicious fruit pudding made.

Conservation Apple Sauce—Do not pare the apples. Wash them well, cut in quarters and remove all wormy or rotten spots. Add only small quantity of water and cook in very soft, taking care not to let burn. Then turn into colander and rub through; all seeds and skins will remain in colander.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

(Miss Hoyt will answer in this paper all questions of etiquette addressed to her in care of this paper. If a personal answer is desired enclose a two-cent stamp.)

Mourning should never be worn at a wedding. One may properly lay it aside for that occasion if one wishes to attend; and a gown of gray, or some other inconspicuous color may take its place temporarily.

Engagement ring should be set with a single diamond, or with diamonds in combination with other stones. Diamonds of all sizes and prices can be purchased, and the value of the ring should be consistent with the weight of a gentleman's purse. A solitaire ring is, in my opinion, the best choice. The gentleman decides what the ring shall be; and he selects inside the band the names or initials of the engaged couple may be engraved; or some suitable word or sentiment may be used instead. The wedding ring should be a plain gold band, rather narrow and thick.

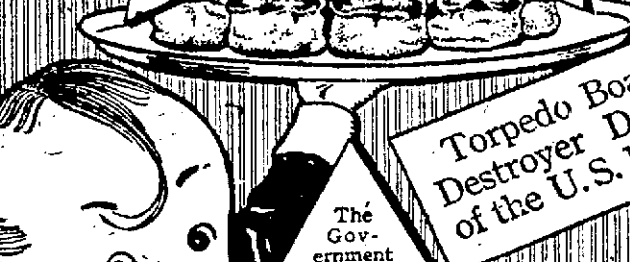

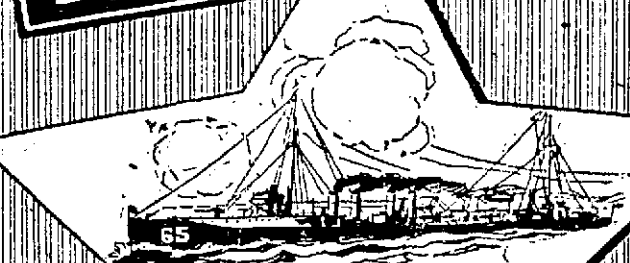

P. G. I am sure the young man picked a quarrel with you in order to have an excuse for breaking off your friendship; and if you have proper pride, you will make no advances toward a reconciliation. I would do no good, and he could tell his friends that you were "crazy about him." There is nothing for a girl to do in such a case but to show a brave face to the world, and make the best of the situation.

der. Add a small quantity of sugar, one-half cup to a quart is a very good rule unless the apples are unusually tart.

Sauce made in this way has a finer flavor and is much more appetizing than if the apples are pared before being cooked; saves a great deal of the apple also.
